particip
your partner in change

Particip GmbH – Your partner in change is an independent consultancy with over 35 years of experience in international cooperation.

At Particip, we help public institutions, development partners and international organisations shape transformation, and design, implement, monitor and evaluate programmes that deliver lasting results.

By combining technical expertise with people-centred, participatory approaches, we support sustainable social, organisational and individual change.

Clients

We work in close cooperation with numerous European firms and a large network of partner institutions worldwide. Local participation is central to our approach, ensuring that our projects are context-specific, and sustainable.

Partnerships

We are involved in several European Economic Interest Groupings (EEIG), which bring together complementary expertise and strengthen our ability to deliver complex, multi-country assignments.
